

THE AUTO PILOT RECIPE

Besides your phone, keys, and wallet, the Auto Pilot is all you need when out and about. A bulging back-pocket wallet or purse is an invitation to pickpockets. A streamlined slim wallet that fits in front pants pockets or an under-clothes pouch or money belt is safer and easier to carry.

The Auto Pilot is your layer of safety and protection in case of emergency. Even though you may have your insurance information and auto registration saved in your phone, these pieces of identification are your back-up at a crucial moment. It is like a cat's protective layer of skin, fur, around its middle – your own primordial pouch.

- Print out this page. Fill in information. Cut along the dotted line, and fold so info is visible.
- Add your pieces of ID to a clear bag. Place it in the glove box. Remove outdated cards.
- Extra bonus: Keep an auto rescue tool in the glove box.
